SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 14, 1863

California Politics.

A sharp contest is going on among our Southern neighbors, in reference to Union candidates, which seems to grow out of the disposition of some of the office-holders to rule the party, and to force upon it such men only as belong to them. In some counties, they have succeeded, and have aroused on the part of the people an earnest spirit of resistance to such dictation. Even the Sacramento Union—as true and loyal a paper as is printed anywhere—says of the nominations in its own county, "that they were accomplished by combinations and bargains which, could they be exposed, would be indignantly repudiated by the people. We doubt whether any so weak intellectually were ever presented to the county before. There is in it a strong Union majority, but if it could be overcome it seems to us that the Convention has presented the very best ticket for the Senate and Assembly to accomplish that end which could possibly have been made up. Every man, too, for the Assembly, was a delegate. In nominating its own members the Convention seems to have acted as a kind of Mutual Admiration Society. One of the Senatorial nominees was also a delegate to the Convention. In a county where the majority was not large, such a ticket would be certain to insure the defeat of the party, and so extensive will prove the dissatisfaction that the result may be rendered doubtful even in Sacramento county."

So also in San Francisco, there is much discontent, and fears are expressed that the mad ambition of corrupt demagogues will insure the defeat of the Union party. We trust that there is no danger of any such lamentable result, and hope that the self conceited dictators will be warned in time, and prudently abstain from a course which is likely to bring disaster to a good cause. It is unfortunate that men who acquire or buy positions of a little authority, seem to imagine that they thereby become possessed of supreme control, and just in proportion as they are weak, wicked and malicious, do they become arrogant and tyrannical. We have some examples of this base sort in Oregon. Only this week, one of the most shallow and corrupt of these, whose vanity is equal to his blundering ignorance, declared in this city, "that he had got the Union party of this State under his control, and he intended to keep it so." It was a modest declaration, certainly, but still it was entirely consistent with the inflated pretensions of the officer, who, we have no doubt, imagines that his supreme sagacity will enable him to rule and reign with undisturbed sway. We are inclined to think, however, that he will discover before long that any party which he controls will be so small that the control of it, or even its existence, will not be of much consequence to any body. There will be, most assuredly, in Oregon, a great and patriotic Union party, but it will utterly repudiate all his dictation, and will blast all the family conspiracies and schemes which he thinks he is usefully devising for the management of State politics. The people begin very generally to understand that the professed love of Union of all such functionaries has its root in their pockets, and that their swelling words of patriotism are bought and paid for, and when they again presume to trade on popular confidence and to make mutual bargains, they will not a whit too soon discover that their glory is departed and their hypocrisy is unveiled.

IMPORTANT DECISION.—We learn that the decision of the Surveyor of Washington Territory, in regard to the Vancouver claim, has been reversed by the Commissioner of the General Land Office. Dr. Henry, to the surprise of all who did not know him, decided that the rights of the Catholic Mission were above those of the Military Reservation, and the citizens of the town site; but the commissioner did not see the justice of such an arrangement, and has wisely protected the Government and the people of Vancouver in the enjoyment and ownership of the valuable improvements made by them. An appeal has been taken to the Secretary of the Interior, but we have no doubt that he will affirm the action of the Commissioner.

IMMIGRANTS.—Mr. Lord, from Canyon City, informs the Mountaineer that a heavy immigration is going into the mines overland. A large party from Sierra county, California, got in a few days before he left, and small parties were arriving daily.

Not less than thirty wheels have been put down in the river near Canyon City, and where they have reached the bed-rock the ply is rich.

DROWNED.—Gen. Palmer gives notice that A. J. Mattoon, formerly of Jackson county, was drowned in Snake river, at old Fort Boise, on the 30th of May.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7th.—The steamer Moses Taylor arrived this morning, 11 days from San Juan. The passengers were 10 days crossing the Isthmus, and seemed to have had a hard time. Some of the passengers say they were compelled to work the boat up the river.

The Fight at Fredericksburg.

The Bulletin's correspondent gives the following statement and review of the late action, which in a condensed manner present the whole facts. "The admirable conduct of the troops, and the courageous spirit manifested by them even when compelled to withdraw, will not fail to arouse the pride and gratitude of every loyal reader.

The causes assigned for the failure of Gen. Hooker are mainly these: 1st. The loss of ground in Saturday's battle occasioned by the inefficiency of Howard's German corps, which forced an abandonment of the original plan of operations and threw the army on the defensive. 2d. The failure of Gen. Stoneman's cavalry to perform with sufficient celerity the duty of cutting the communications in the enemy's rear, between Fredericksburg and Richmond. 3d. The inability of our left wing (at Fredericksburg, under Gen. Sedgwick) to form a junction with Hooker's right and the serious loss of the left in evacuating its position. 4th. The heavy weather and rapid rise of the river in Hooker's rear, placing his line of communications in great peril. These are undoubtedly each and all excellent causes for a failure; but they altogether fail to satisfy the public that the failure of the campaign was not owing to still another cause.

A few days before Gen. Hooker's advance, a report from the Medical Director of the Army of the Potomac was published, from which the precise numbers and the effective force of that army could be easily ciphered. The force under Gen. Hooker reached the enormous figure of 160,000 for, to be particular, 159,325 men. This is a larger force than has been wielded by any commander of the army. It is 30,000 more than McClellan took to the Peninsula, and 70,000 more than took part in the battles of Antietam or Fredericksburg. Even if the ordinary military rule had been carried out, that one-third of our army should be left as reserves, Hooker would have had a larger force for action than has been engaged in any of our battles; but the fact is, that unless the troops around Washington (which are not under Hooker's command,) and the troops guarding the crossings of the Rappahannock, be called a reserve, we cannot be said to have had any.—Secretary Stanton, it is true, in a bulletin issued yesterday, declares that only one-third of Hooker's army was engaged; but I fear the Secretary's words will not bear a downright interpretation. It may be true that in the battle of Saturday, and in the far greater engagement of Sunday, Hooker did not bring into action more than 50,000 men, but the remaining 100,000 were certainly under his orders on the Rappahannock. It was the wooded and broken nature of the ground in which the battle was fought, added to Sedgwick's failure to make a junction, that prevented the concentration of the whole army.

The losses during the nine days campaign of General Hooker, in Friday's, Saturday's and Sunday's battles on the right, and Sunday's and Monday's battles on the left, have not yet been officially published. Gen. Hooker is credited with the statement that the entire number of killed, wounded and missing does not exceed 10,000. But I do not believe Gen. Hooker has made any such statement as applied to the whole army. Sedgwick alone lost 5,970 men, and the official list of casualties in the corps of Gen. Sickles's foots up 9,874; while the Eleventh Corps (the one which broke) suffered a loss of 3,129. It is true that these corps, with Couch's and the Regulars under Gen. Sykes, endured the brunt of the fighting; but I fear the official and corrected lists of casualties will show, when published, that Gen. Hooker recrossed the Rappahannock with at least 18,000 fewer men than made over it a week before.

The army has borne up magnificently under its misfortune and renewed disappointment. The men recrossed the river and marched back to their old cantonments in as fine a tone, with as proud a step, and in as solid columns, as if they had come from reaping the full fruits of a glorious victory. They felt they had acted their part manfully and bravely. They knew that, outside of one unfortunate corps, not a man had quailed during the gory struggle; they knew that in their fight they had proven themselves at least the enemy's mates; they knew they had punished him fearfully, and all but fatally; and if he had thinned their ranks, they had mowed his down. There is no doubt that the rebel loss is at least 25,000 men. When Stonewall Jackson came up on our right, 40 or 50 pieces of heavy artillery played on his solid columns incessantly, and finally compelled him to retire with fearful havoc, while his artillery could not be brought into position. The army felt that its reverse movement was but for a moment, and that, soon again they should measure swords with the infamous traitors who would blot our country's glory. Victory did not yet perch on their standards, but they deserved it waiting upon them in the not distant future. Some of the regiments which I had personal acquaintance of, as they marched off waving their tattered banners proudly and defiantly, looked as if they were all ready for another battle for a hundred more.

It may seem strange under the circumstances, but I believe it to be a fact, from what I have seen and heard, that the confidence of the army in "fighting Joe" is as great as ever. His own personal bearing, as well as the skill he exhibited, has undoubtedly much to do with this. In a battle, Gen. McClellan was never seen—he was always miles in the rear. At the first great battle of Fredericksburg, Burnside never even crossed the river. But at each of the last battles near Chancellorsville, Gen. Hooker was in the very brunt of the fight. He courted every danger, and confronted death in every form, and the greatest marvel of the battle was that he came forth from it alive and but slightly hurt. As he rode through the ranks when the army was on its march back to Falmouth, regiment after regiment—the whole army—cheered him to the echo, and many of them begged that he would again and once lead them against the enemy.

I have never after any battle of the war seen such a strong, unflinching, undiscouraged, heroic spirit exhibited by the people generally. In the earlier stages of the war, the heavens seemed hung with black after every reverse. The people were easily downcast, and often felt like giving up the contest. Even as late as last December, after Burnside's repulse from Fredericksburg, heart and courage seemed to completely forsake the country, and the Copperhead peace movement bade fair to carry everything before it for a time.

But there has been an amazing acquisition of strength, endurance and heroic spirit since then. No such thought as "back-down" is now entertained, and such word as "peace" is anywhere whispered. "Pick your flints and try again" is the spirit universally exhibited and felt. The people, the country is only now getting up to the true military mood—up to the spirit of a true man army to whom duty is the watchword, and the pole star—duty and not merely success. Henceforth the country will bear itself with equanimity, and push on its work, whatever may betide.—This is the one great thing in which we have been deficient heretofore. There has always been plenty of enthusiasm and courage; but we have sadly lacked steady, unflinching, dauntless determination.

(Special Correspondence to the OREGONIAN.)

Indian Treaty at the Lapwai Agency,

Lapwai, Idaho Ter., June 4th, 1863.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

There has been little of public interest transpired since my last till yesterday, when there was Council called by the Commissioners. There were present at their request all the Chiefs, including Big Thunder, Eagle of the Light, Cool-cool-selim, Joseph, and the heads of all the disaffected bands. It was by far the most interesting and imposing sight that has occurred since the convening of the Council. Mr. Commissioner Howe, through the Interpretor, Perrin Whitman, Esq., answered the speech of Lawyer, declining the proposition submitted by the Indians. He explained away the grievances of which they complained; acknowledged the many services the Nez Perces had rendered the whites in times past, as related by Lawyer, and in the name of the Government thanked them. He also stated that the Government had faithfully appropriated the monies stipulated in the Stevens-Palmer treaty, and that it had been misapplied by men who had the disbursing of it previous to the present officers acting for the Government. That the Government was not to blame, but its agents. He informed them that there were balances due, which he assured them would be promptly paid. After recapitulating the objects of the Commission, and the desire of the Government that they should be located on a reservation where they could receive ample protection, and explaining some of the many advantages that would accrue to them from their having the lands as proposed secured to them in their own right forever, and having a patent to the same. He concluded by telling them that if they could not come to a conclusion that the Council would be adjourned sine die. After the adjournment the Chiefs of Lawyer's band had a meeting together, and in the evening came and had a consultation with the Commissioners, making the following proposition: That they would give up the gold districts, also the land on which Lewiston was situated, and twelve miles around it, making the boundaries at Snake river and the Clear water. This would include the Lawyi valley, the present Agency, the mills, also the land on which the Government Post is located. This proposition was promptly rejected by the Commissioners. There was then a long private talk had with them in the tents, Messrs. Hale and Howe being present with Interpreter Whitman. The result was that they would make a treaty, but the boundary as proposed by the Commissioners was to be extended so as to come within five miles of Lewiston, at Ruben's Rapids, and to extend on the north side of the Clearwater seven miles instead of five as proposed. With this understanding they again adjourned to meet this morning and submit the proposition when Big Thunder and his Chiefs were present. Nothing of importance has occurred to-day.

"LAWYER."

SATURDAY, June 6th, 1863.

There has been three meetings of the Council since my last, at each of which all the Chiefs were present, including Big Thunder and all the disaffected bands. On Thursday, Commissioner Hutching addressed the Indians, urging them to accept the proposition of the Commissioners, and presented arguments similar to those advanced by Commissioner Howe the day previous. Yesterday, Commissioner Hale addressed them, directing his remarks more especially to Big Thunder and his band, asking them the reason for their refusal to accept the annuities awarded them under the treaty of 1855. Their answers were very vague and unsatisfactory. Commissioner Hutchins then addressed Big Thunder, Eagle-of-the-Light and Cool-cool-selim especially, charging them with being the cause of the present disagreements that existed in the Nez Perces tribe. He told them that if they still persisted in refusing to take the annuities, it would not release them from the provisions of the Treaty that they had signed and entered into with the Government in 1855; but that they would be considered as unfriendly to the Americans, and consequently would not claim or expect their protection. They each answered severally for themselves, claiming that they wanted more time to consider the proposition. After they left, the Council the Chief Lawyer answered for himself and his band, accepting the propositions of the Commissioners, but asking that the northern and eastern boundaries be extended a little, which request will be acceded to. His chiefs followed, all agreeing to accept the propositions amended as Lawyer suggested. It is therefore now finally arranged that the treaty is to be drawn up, signed, sealed and executed on Monday next. The provisions of it are those given in my former letter, with a slight alteration in the boundaries. After the signing of the treaty the presents are to be distributed, and there is to be a grand dress parade.

Much credit is due to the Commissioners for their exertions in this matter. The people of Lewiston are much rejoiced at the success of the treaty, as now the capital of the new Territory will doubtless be located there, for the time being. I will inform you in my next of the concluding scenes. Lawyer said he was glad and happy to see that a permanent home was to be established for his people. The disaffected bands will doubtless join in the treaty now. They find all the others have agreed to it.

"LAWYER."

MUSTER SUSTAINED.—The Administration has doubtless some faults to answer for; but it represents the country and must be sustained. Even the Argus, growler as it is, is forced to admit this. "The Administration must be bolstered up," says that print, "as the only agency known to the Constitution for conducting our national affairs." The confession comes late; it is evidently unwillingly made; but it embodies a world of truth. War upon the ministers of the Government means war upon the Government itself. Systematic attacks upon the conduct of our national affairs means attacks upon the Union cause, and "aid and comfort" to the rebels. The author of such attacks may not intend it, but such is the effect. Every blow aimed at the President and his associates is a blow against the country, against the success of the war, against an honorable peace.

If the Administration has transcended its powers and proved unfaithful to its trust, it may be, and will be, held responsible. There is an easy and peaceful mode of redress for those who feel aggrieved. The instruments of punishment are in the hands of the people. They may be used legitimately at that "court of last resort"—the ballot-box. But until that court sits, it is the duty of patriots to forget personal and party grievances. They should ad ours schemes of political vengeance, until the country is saved.—Albany Journal.

Some conservative gentlemen, who left the United States, some time since, because it was engaged in an abolition war, and they were determined not to be conscripted to fight for the negro, have been heard from in Canada. They had escaped the service of Uncle Sam, and had entered that of Sambo. They were paying for their daily rations by sawing wood for British subjects of American birth and African descent, who emigrated, a few years since, from the sacred soil so hotly defended by our Southern brethren, and found homes in the dominions of the beneficent Britain. It is a happy escape, surely, for conservative gentlemen, to avoid the abolition war by sawing wood for niggers in Canada.

to be found in a first class Hatter's Store.

In selling a gentleman a Hat, we do not pretend like to wear it ourselves, (if it be a Soft Hat,) out of our establishment until the leather crosses have been removed and it has a stiff hat, until it has been worn and moulded to suit the particular formation of his head.

We do not ask a person a price, expecting to fall to somewhere near the original price asked. BUT ONE PRICE and the abatement is in the way of doing business. That principle being understood, we solicit the patronage of the public generally.

CIRCUIT COURT.—The Court yesterday was occupied in the trial by jury of the case of Lord Brook vs. Cooper—being an action at law to recover possession of a portion of the Portland land claim, purchased of W. W. Chapman and wife. Jury returned verdict for plaintiff. The remainder of the day was spent in the arguments of demurrers.

SOBERED.—An intoxicated man drove two horses and a wagon on to a condemned bridge, south of the penitentiary, yesterday, and the wagon broke through and went down a distance of ten or twelve feet, with the man in it. The horses, however, became detached from the wagon, and crossed over in safety. The wagon was considerably smashed up, but the only harm done the man was to suddenly sober him.

REFUNDED.—The People's Transportation Company refunded the sum of fifty dollars, charged for the use of the steamer E. D. Baker in conveying the fire department to meet the return of Columbian No. 3 is from their excursion to Dalles. It is to be regretted by the department in the celebration of the Fourth.

GLASS BLOWERS.—The National Troupe of Glass Blowers start overland, on Monday, on their return to California. They will perform at all the towns along the route. They leave many friends in this city, and every other place in Oregon which they visited. Success attend them.

THEATRICAL.—A beautiful drama in three acts, from one of Bulwer's novels, entitled, "Alice, or the Mysteries," is billed for to-night, G. B. Waldron and Miss Mitchell appearing in the leading characters. A laughable farce will conclude the performance.

TREASURE.—Wells, Fargo & Co. shipped seventy-eight thousand dollars in treasure on the Brother Jonathan, last night.

SAILED.—The steamer Brother Jonathan sailed last night for San Francisco by way of Victoria.

Rev. A. C. Edwards (Universalist) will preach in the Court House to-morrow (Sunday), at 11 o'clock A. M.

DR. D. JAYNES'
EXPECTORANT
AND SANATIVE PILLS

HAVE BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC SO LONG, and found such general favor in every section of country where they have been sold, (and there is no place on the civilized globe where they have not been sold) that it would seem almost superfluous just at this time to direct attention to them through the medium of the press. Yet it is due to suffering humanity, and especially to that numerous class who, in this changeable climate of the Pacific Coast, suffer from inducing and ending in CONSUMPTION, many of whom may not have used this remedy, that they should be allowed to read of some of the cases which its influence has been useful in remedying complaints of all which they are suffering. The EXPECTORANT

Operates immediately upon the Disease,

SURELY AND SPEEDILY ERADICATING IT, while the SANATIVE PILLS, by preserving regularity in the Bowels, and giving a healthy tone to the other internal organs, aid and assist the perfect operation of the former.

Attention is asked to the following Certificates, selected at random from the many in the possession of the proprietor:

UPPER UWCHLAN, Chester Co. Pa., Sept 7, 1858.
DR. D. JAYNE—Having been afflicted with ASTHMA and BRONCHITIS, and having the advice of some of the most eminent physicians, whose skillful treatment of my case did not prove to be of any avail, I obtained so relief in my suffering until I commenced the use of your EXPECTORANT. After taking your medicine a few months, I was entirely cured. NATHAN PENNYPACKER.

ASTORIA, Long Island, Jan 15, 1860.
DR. W. TISDALL, Esq., New York—Sir: As you well know I had been afflicted with BRONCHITIS, accompanied with the most painful tightness of the chest, and great difficulty in breathing for nearly two months, and I had almost lost all confidence in the power of medical science, when at your friendly suggestion I began the well known (but not enough known) "EXPECTORANT" of Dr. Jayne, of Philadelphia. Three or four days after having commenced to take it, my cough had nearly subsided, the expectoration was easy, and the breathing quite free.

I am now quite another man, and my general health has never been better.

I remain, my dear Tisdall, with esteem, your servant and friend, J. B. MONTE.

WINFIELD, Tuscarawas Co. O., May 31, 1860.
DR. D. JAYNE—Dear Sir: One bottle of your Expectorant cured my daughter of the CROUP. For a long time she was beyond the hope of recovery. During the attack she had a number of convulsions. She is now perfectly well. J. L. COFFMAN.

BURLINGTON, Bradford Co. Pa., July 23, 1863.
DR. D. JAYNE—Dear Sir: My son was taken sick and half a year afflicted with a disease resembling CONSUMPTION. For two years he was unable to labor. He was finally induced to try your EXPECTORANT and PILLS, and after taking 10 bottles and some PILLS, was completely cured, and is now able to labor every day. "JOHN HENRY.

We would add to the above that we speak to Mr Henry the truthfulness for his son, and know that the statement is true. MERRY, WITHELM & CO.

For a greater number and variety of certificates and fuller information regarding these and other of Dr D. Jayne's Family Preparations, reference is given to the ANNUAL ALMANAC, which may be had from any Druggist or Dealer in Medicines.

SEND FOR A CIRCULAR.

DR. BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums and vegetable oils and liniments. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any, however delicate, to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases. If they are not satisfied with its healing properties, the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Baker's Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally, morning, noon and night; it will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea, to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhœa, or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely, and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a rag or cotton, and bathe gum at the same time; it will relieve the pain instantly.

If you have a Pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe the parts affected morning and night; at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Child has a sudden breast, apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut, or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea; it will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®
NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

...EN STONEMAN'S CAVALRY RAID.—A correspondent of the New York Times who was with Stoneman's expedition writes that it was out ten columns, was nine days in making the trip, three days and two nights without building a fire and only two mules killed, and about one hundred taken prisoners captured over three hundred prisoners, killed a few rebels in skirmishes destroyed roads, bridges canals, and over a million dollars worth of Confederate stores. The correspondent also relates the following significant fact,

In the counties visited there were but few rebels found at home except the very old and the very young. In the days travelled I did not see fifty able bodied men who were not in some way connected with the army. Nearly every branch of business is at a stand still. The shelves in stores are almost everywhere empty, the shops of the artisan is abandoned and in ruins. The people who are to be seen, passively submit to all that emanates from Richmond without a murmur, they are for the most part, simple minded, and ignorant of all that is transpiring in the great theatre about them. An intelligent looking man in Columbia laughed heartily when told that Union troops occupied New Orleans.—Jeff Davis would let them have it, was his theory, and I could not find a man who would admit that the Confederates had ever been beaten in a single engagement. These people do not even read the Richmond papers, and almost all the information they do obtain as what is passed about in the primitive style from mouth to mouth. Before this raid they believed that the Union soldiers were anything but civilized beings, and were stricken with terror when their approach was heralded. Of six churches seen in one day, in only one had there been religious services held within six months. One half, at least, of the dwelling houses are unoccupied and fast going to decay.

The fear of famine was everywhere expressed, the Government seizes upon every thing that can go into the army leaving those who are not in the army to shift as best they can. Many have grown so conceited to all the marching evils of the Government agents. Through the agency of negroes, large quantities of provisions of this kind were brought to light for the benefit of Union soldiers. The farmers had in readiness only called of all marketable horses, mules and beeves, and what is left hand is not fit for the butcher's stall. The larder of the largest planters contains little else than bacon and corn meal. The wheat crop, now coming forward is immense—in fact little else has been put in the ground. The rich valleys of the James and Rapidan rivers dressed wheat fields—more, in fact, than can be gathered, unless the army is turned to this work. The negroes are not numerous enough for the task, even were they not in a fair way of being so thoroughly demoralized as to refuse work unless paid in "green backs."

AN EDITOR'S TRIALS.—As an illustration of the trials of editors, Irenæus, of the New York Observer, says: "And the letters coming to the editor asking his assistance are so many, that he might reasonably employ an agent on a salary to do the work. We made mention some time since of a new corn that has been introduced into this country. One of our distant subscribers wrote requesting us to buy an ear of the corn for him, and from week to week to shell a few kernels of it into the Observer, until the whole is sent. In this way he would save the expense of postage or express. Imagine, my dear friend, the happy editor selecting one man's paper out of a vast mail list, and cheating the government by putting a weekly grist of corn into it. A subscriber who saw the advertisement of a young lady wishing a situation as a teacher, wrote to say that he was a clergyman in want of a wife, and requested us to send to him by mail the likeness of the lady, and if he was pleased with her looks he would open a correspondence with a view to matrimony. We sent his own letter back to him without the likeness."

VICKSBURG.—We have received no further news from Vicksburg and we need not be surprised if that rebel stronghold should hold out some time longer. The Albany Journal truly says:

The taking of a fortified city is the most difficult of all the achievements of war. The greatest conquerors in history have been compelled to spend months and years in reducing a town of a few thousand inhabitants. Gibraltar is a proverb of impregnability. It took the allies sixteen months to reduce Sebastopol. The fleets and armies of Victor Emanuel battered the walls of Gaeta for five months before they found admission. An English fleet set out to capture Cronstadt and found the obstacles so insuperable that it returned without firing a gun. But Sebastopol and Gaeta, and Cronstadt, never had such artillery as Charleston, and yet we are indignant because Admiral Dupont did not capture it in an afternoon! Let us try and be reasonable.

"SHINE YOUR BOOTS."—A funny scene occurred in front of Willard's Hotel in Washington, a few days since, among the boot blacks who shine around the corner. A boy, whose feet were bare, but were covered with a tough skin, who met with the usual interrogatory, and immediately set one of the black gentlemen at work upon his pedal extremities. The affair attracted a crowd of the professors of the black art, and others, and many were the critical instructions given to the operator, such as "polish roun dat heel, right smart," "black 'em between them toes," etc. The youth who received the polishing, forked over the fee with an air, and walked away eyeing his feet proudly as if they had been encased in patent leathers.

POOR MEXICO.—After all the brilliant reports of the successful resistance the Mexicans were offering their mercenary invaders, Puebla has fallen into the hands of Forey, with the whole army of Ortega, numbering 17 000. Forey is now on the road to the Capitol. He will probably encounter at Molino del Rey, Chapultepec and Mexico a desperate resistance, but as reinforcements will soon reach him we conclude that his complete success is only a question of time. What are the ulterior designs of Napoleon, if he has any, will appear before long.

A French paper relates that the Count de ——, a gentleman of 60 years, fell deeply in love with a young Miss just turned 17. He offered himself in this case: "Mademoiselle, I am old you are young—will you do me the honor to become my widow?"

It is said that the preparations for the attack on Charleston cost one hundred and forty millions of dollars! The fight lasted but half an hour, or at the rate of five millions of dollars per minute!
